

Coney Island of the West: Past and Present

Join us for a fun night learning all about the fascinating history of Carver County's own, Coney Island of the West. Archaeologist Jeremy Nienow, working in conjunction with Blondo Consulting, has conducted Phase I archaeology on the island. Here's your chance to discover first hand what the archaeologists have learned and what it means! A presentation of archaeological findings and a brief history of the island will be followed by time for Q & A coordinated by County Parks staff and consultant.

All Families Welcome! A storytime and garbology (trash-can archaeology) activity will be provided for any kids and youth who attend. Refreshments (s'mores & coffee/cookie) appropriate for each age group provided.
