Reflections from a Parent of an Anicca Graduate

Last night the reality of leaving Anicca set in for our daughter. She struggled with it a bit. She said she now realizes how good the school is, what a great program that she was able to participate in. As you know she does not talk that often about her feelings on life and how she perceives it. But lately when she has, I was amazed at her confidence, vocabulary, understanding, calmness and ability to communicate her opinion. She has grown in your program and we are very thankful that we were referred to you. Life could be quite different for us right now if she did not participate in Anicca.

*Empowering Adolescents to Create Peaceful
Solutions during Growth and Change*

VISION

By supporting and teaching teens, we enhance their social and academic skills while strengthening their emotional health and support systems. Increased confidence and competency makes it possible for adolescents to function more effectively in their homes, schools, and communities. Services are provided in a safe, therapeutic, and structured environment serving adolescents diagnosed as needing mental health services.

Once the adolescent is ready to return to a less clinical setting, services are provided to help facilitate his/her transition back to their home school district.

The ANICCA Program

Anicca [uh-knee-kuh] represents change and impermanence, serving as a reminder that all difficult times shall pass and that everyone is subject to change. The program integrates the empiricism of Interpersonal Neurobiology with General Systems Theory and practices of mindfulness. When combined with a solution-focused approach that utilizes immediate feedback and teaching opportunities to strengthen competency in emotional, interpersonal and academic coping skills, outcomes result in the lasting holistic growth of each individual. Day treatment is provided to the client throughout the entire year with opportunities for credit recovery during the summer months.
